

Study Abroad with Internships!

The College of Arts and Sciences is proud to announce its latest initiative in fostering global experiential learning opportunities for its students. Through formal partnerships with renowned institutions, we have opened doors to a wide array of international internships designed to provide invaluable real-world experience in diverse fields of study.

One shining example is our collaboration with Ocean X, a leading marine research organization. Ocean X offers an exceptional internship program that allows students to immerse themselves in the fascinating world of marine science and conservation. Participants have the unique opportunity to work alongside esteemed researchers and experts, gaining hands-on experience in areas such as marine biology, oceanography, and environmental policy. From conducting fieldwork on vibrant coral reefs to analyzing data on marine ecosystems, students are empowered to make a meaningful impact on our understanding of the world's oceans.

By forging partnerships with organizations like Ocean X, The College of Arts and Sciences is committed to equipping students with the skills, knowledge, and global perspective needed to excel in their future careers. These international internships not only enhance academic learning but also cultivate a deep appreciation for the importance of global collaboration in addressing pressing world challenges. We look forward to witnessing the transformative experiences and contributions our students will make through these enriching international internship opportunities.

Please contact Ms. Ciara Williams, Assistant Director of Student Affairs for Experiential Learning (coas.internships@howard.edu) for more information